

Luis Tabuenca is a Spanish composer and percussionist whose work explores the intersections of composition, improvisation and interdisciplinary creation. His projects range from orchestral and chamber music to opera, sound installation and performance, and have been presented internationally by leading performers, ensembles and institutions dedicated to contemporary music.

In 2026, he was awarded the XLIII Reina Sofía Prize for Musical Composition. His recent projects include Remanence for symphony orchestra and Naturstudium III, created in collaboration with Les Percussions de Strasbourg and released on the Kairos label. He is the founder and artistic director of Volavérunt Ensemble, a platform for contemporary and interdisciplinary creation based in Barcelona.